Subject: Position Limits- Silver

I am sure you will have received multiple copies of Ted Butler's rational for his proposed 1% solution so I have not repeated that here. However I fully support the 1% solution as a fair, equitable, workable, logical and uncomplicated solution that is easily explainable.

I urge you to seriously consider his proposal and implement a solution to the disgraceful events that are taking place in the silver futures market.

By the way, congratulations on your work leading to the passing of legislation on the financial regulatory reform package.

Respectfully yours,

Dave Currie Halifax, NS CA
